DETAILED ACTION

The rejections under 35 USC 102(b) over Ryu et al and Ramkissoo-Ganorkar et al.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1 and 3-16, 18-32 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 33-41, 44-55 of copending Application No. 10/072,320 (US'320). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because US'320 claims a wax-film composite which has a mucoadhesive layer which comprised of at least one water-insoluble swellable mucoadhesive polymer, at least one pH-sensitive film-forming polymer, and at least one molecule of interest (see claim 35). The water-insoluble swellable mucadhesive polymer is polyacrylic acid cross-linked with polyalkenyl ether or divinyl glycol (claim 36), and may be Noveon or Carbomer in particular (claim 37). The water-insoluble swellable mucoadhesive polymer is present at a concentration of from 0.1% to 20% by weight (claim 38). The pH-sensitive film-forming polymer polymer present is a copolymer of methacrylic acid and acrylic or methacrylic ester (claim 39). This ph-sensitive polymer is present at a concentration of from 0.05% to 10% by weight (claim 40), and may be a Eudragit polymer of chemical derivative thereof (claim 41). The patent differs in that it does not set out the weight percentage of the solvent, however, given the rest of the composition, and the art recognized use as a drug delivery system, those of ordinary skill would have found it well within their skill to modify the instant formulation by modifying the amount of solvent in an attempt to optimize its use in its capacity as a drug delivery system. Those of ordinary skill would have further expected similar therapeutic results form the use of the instant gel formulation given the claims of US'320. As such, the instantly claimed mucoadhesive gel would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention given the claims of copending US'320.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
